The German Documentary Association AG DOK is the largest professional association of independent producers in Germany, numbering more than 850 members. It is first and foremost a film and media lobbyist for the documentary genre, but is open to representatives from all film genres.

German-documentaries.de is the international label for the promotion of German documentary films abroad.

An initiative of the German Documentary Association AG DOK and German Films Service + Marketing GmbH, German-documentaries.de presents German non-fiction films at international festivals and markets, and organizes co-production meetings and film series.

The "German Documentaries 2010" catalogue features 200 brand new documentaries on a wealth of subjects in every imaginable documentary genre. Surely you'll find exactly what you're looking for. Ask for the printed catalogue or view it online at www.german-documentaries.de.
