

THE XII. WONDERS OF THE WORLD

John Maynard

1611

The Courtier

Long haue I liued in Court, yet learn' d not all this while,
To sell poore suters smoake, nor where I hate to smile:
Superiours to adore, Inferiours to despise :
To flie from such as fall, to follow such as rise,
To cloake a poore desire vnder a rich aray,
Nor to aspire by vice though twere the quicker way.
